As it is convenient to find the Almanac of a year rapidly, the following table of years with their Almanacs for the Twentieth Century is added, shewing at a glance the correct ones to be used in the Leap Years, which are denoted by L.

NOTE TO THE THIRD EDITION.

There is very little of this book which has become obsolete; while there are few works of the kind at once so compendious and so easy of reference.

For this edition the indexes have been tested afresh throughout.

To the historian, the record-searcher, the almanac-maker, the astronomer, the bibliographer,—in fact to all who may have to do with dates,—a small manual such as this is invaluable. For nine cases out of ten in which one may want to refer to it, the whole work is done by turning up an Index to the year required, and then finding one of 35 almanacs there indicated.

Once having the almanac suitable to the year in question before us, we have detailed in columns the ancient Roman Calendar (k for kalends, n for nones, i for ides), side by side with the modern day of the month, day of the week, and the various Christian feasts.

In the former editions were also included Law, Cambridge, and Oxford Terms; these became obsolete in 1873, 1882, and 1863 respectively, the Law Terms only having been in the state in which they were there given for 42 years, 1831 to 1873.

As these data would now be misleading they have been cut away from the stereotyped plates; but it may be of some use to include here a table of the principal changes in the Law Terms, which have been as follows:—

LAW TERMS.

	HILARY	EASTER	TRINITY	MICHAELMAS

1541—1830			Friday after Corp. Chr. day to ensuing Wed. fortnight
Until 1640				9 or 10 Oct. to 28 or 29 Nov.
1641—1751				23 or 24 Oct. to 28 or 29 Nov.
1752—1830				6 Nov. to 28 or 29 Nov.
1831—1873*	11 Jan. to 31 Jan.	15 Apr. to 8 May	22 May to 12 June	2 Nov. to 25 Nov.
1874 onwards, called SITTINGS	11 Jan. to Wednesday in Passion Week	Tuesday week after Easter to Friday before Whitsunday	Tuesday week after Whitsunday to 8 Aug. (1874—1884) to 12 Aug. (1885—1906) to 1 Aug. (1907 onwards)	2 Nov. to 21 Dec. (1874—1883) 25 Oct. to „ „ (1884—1906) 12 Oct. to „ „ (1907 onwards)

* In case of any ending date being a Sunday, the following Monday was considered last day of Term.

With regard to the University Terms, for present use the following table may be consulted, the possibility of further changes always being kept in mind.

As an example, we find by reference to the New Style Index, p. 9, that the almanac for 1907 is no. 10, and on turning to the first column below to the number 10 we find opposite to it the dates Jan. 14 and March 23 for the beginning and end of the Oxford Hilary Term while the Easter Term begins on April 3 in the same year.

One error—corrected in the present edition—was recently pointed out by Mr C. S. Ward (Notes and Queries, Oct. 1, 1904). In the New Style Index under 1582 (the year in which styles were changed) Almanac 28 was referred to. This made Easter just a week too soon; and, as Mr Ward pointed out, Almanac 35 is the one to be used.—Pope Gregory XIII's Bull directing the 17th October (the first Sunday after the omitted days 5—14 Oct.) to be treated as the 18th Sunday after Pentecost (not after Trinity, as Alm. 28 gives).

As far as seemed consistent with usefulness, the introductory matter has been left undisturbed: the changes made throughout the work are these:—

The Roman figures denoting the pages have been altered to accommodate this note.

The introductory paragraphs which deal with the Terms have been enclosed in square brackets, while two notes referring to them have been elided (pp. xxi, xxii).

On page xxii the date for O Sapientia has been corrected from Dec. 17 to Dec. 16.

In the Hegiral table on p. xxiii, the lines after New Style 1878 A.D. are now added: while a last paragraph giving a warning about the two Hegiral years beginning in 1878 has been cut away.

In the Indexes, on p. 1 a note has been added about the Golden Numbers, on pp. 3 and 8 brief notes about the change of style in England; while on p. 7, October 15 has been given as the date of beginning the New Style on the Continent, and correction of the number of the almanac from 28 to 35 has been made opposite 1582.

On p. 87 a note has been added referring to Dec. 16.

Also, as mentioned above, all the Terms have been erased from each of the 35 almanacs.

Inside the front cover of the book, a fresh table of years and their almanacs has been substituted, giving both the numbers requisite for Leap Years; and on p. xx will be found a short list of aids to the finding of dates in oriental eras which it is not possible to include in tables of the Christian era.

It is hoped that the alphabetical list of contents provided at the end of the book will conduce to the readier handling of the volume.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

THIS work is fashioned upon two different hints, derived, the one* from the late L. B. Francœur, the other† from the well-known James Ferguson. Francœur was the first I know of who imagined the very simple and effective plan of uniting the thirty-five almanacs, and indicating the proper one for each year by an index. And Ferguson is the first who dared to think that an almanac-maker (to which I add, an historian) might, by a trifling calculation, find new and full moons accurately enough, if he were provided with an abridgement of the mass of tables by which the astronomer calculates the moon's place. But though I thus acknowledge, as I am bound to do, that this work is suggested by the writers above named, yet I must also state that I am neither translator nor editor of either; insomuch that I know of no way of introducing their names into the title-page, except the one which I have adopted. The whole work has been reconstructed from higher authorities, on the plan of the writers to whose suggestions I am indebted.

I have added what may appear a very superfluous extent of means for verifying the accuracy of the indexes: and perhaps

* "Manuels-Roret. Théorie du Calendrier et Collection de tous les Calendriers des Années passées et futures. . . . Par L. B. Francœur, . . ." Paris, 1842. 12mo.

† "Select Mechanical Exercises. . . . New Tables for expeditiously computing the Time of any New or Full Moon within the limits of 6000 years before and after the 18th century. . . . By James Ferguson." Second Edition. London, 1778. 8vo.

a reader may think that I really suspect the existence of serious errors. This, however, is not the case: I have examined the whole index since it was stereotyped, by comparison with the two works of Clavius, the paramount authorities on the subject, and my only fear is that a figure may be broken off, a contingency which no printer can guard against with perfect certainty. I have examined all the rest of the work, also since it was stereotyped.

I do not, of course, pretend to supersede the common almanac, which abounds in matter beyond prediction. But I hope to be of some use to the constructors of the almanacs, in a few details in which they are not always accurate, and in which I have only been saved from error by making all almanacs at once, and by the inquiries which were thereby rendered necessary.

My main object is, in matters purely chronological, to supply the place of the old almanac, which is never at hand when wanted,—of the older almanac, which never was at hand,—of the future almanac, which is not yet at hand,—and of the universal almanac in every shape.

A. DE MORGAN.

University College, London,

INTRODUCTION.

As much of the way to use this book as many persons want is shown in two lines at the head of Table II., p. 7. Thus it will appear that the 30th Almanac serves for 1851, the 21st for 1852, the 6th for 1853, &c. But because 1852 is leap year, the 21st Almanac will not serve for January and February; in these months the next, or 22nd Almanac, must be used: being as if the first two months of Almanac 22 had been cut out, and pasted upon the first two months of Almanac 21, with one addition at the end of February, which in this case it is convenient to print, because February 29 falls on a Sunday.

Having thus premised as much as will save such readers as only want the almanac of the day from the necessity of consulting this introduction, I proceed to give some account of the work itself, which is intended,—

1. To enable any one, without calculation, to place before himself the almanac for any year of old style, or any year of new style from A.D. 1582 to A.D. 2000; with its Roman and modern European month days, its week days, feasts fixed and moveable, law and university terms. [See note on p. v. Ed.]

2. To give the means, without calculation, of verifying or restoring any part of the index, in the event of a figure being misprinted or broken out of the stereotype plate.

3. To enable the reader, without calculation, to decide on the moonlight of any month: that is, to find at once, within a day (in some rare cases with an error of two days) the days of new and full moon.

4. To supply a very short and easy method of calculating, always within two hours, and usually within less, the times of new and full moon for any month of any year from B.C. 2000 to A.D. 2000.

Almanacs differ from one another as follows. The days of the week fall on different days of the month in different almanacs; and the moveable feasts fall on different days of the year. The three determinants by which almanacs are usually constructed, are the golden number, the dominical letter, and the epoch.

Golden Number.—I do not make any use of this, but means of finding it are given in the index-tables. The years, or rows of years, with an asterisk at the beginning, have 1 for the golden number, the next years, or rows of years, have 2. and so on. Thus A.D. 1114 has 13 for its golden number.

Dominical Letter.—Every day of the year (except February 29, when it occurs) has one of the letters A, B, C, D, E, F, G, permanently attached to it: A to January 1, B to January 2, &c., in recurring order; A again to January 8, and so on: as seen in Almanac 37. Consequently, in a common year, all the Sundays have the same letter; and this letter is the sole dominical letter of the year. But in leap-year, owing to one week-day going without a letter, January and February have one letter for their Sundays, and all the other months the letter preceding; G being reckoned as preceding A. Thus 1632 (old style) has the letters A G; all the Sundays in January and February are A-days, all the Sundays in the other months are G-days. But we have rarely, if ever, in this work, anything to do with the January and February letters: thus, for our purposes, it is as if 1632 had no letter except G.

Epact.—By the moon, in chronology, is always meant the moon as represented in the prevailing chronological system, be the representation true or false: we therefore speak only of the calendar moon, so far as the structure of the almanac is concerned. The age of the moon is thus reckoned. All the day on which new moon is supposed to take place (though it happen only a second before midnight) is called the first day of the moon; all the day after is the second day; and so on. The word epact was used (in old style) in more senses than one; of these I adopt the most common and the most useful. In old style, the epact here means the age of the moon on the 22nd of March, the first possible location of Easter Day. In new style, the epact means the age of the moon on the 1st of January. But by one of those contrivances for correction of the calendar which I cannot here explain, the epact 29, in old style, must always be voted to be 30, and used as such in reckoning.

In both styles, old and new, Easter Day is the Sunday following that fourteenth day of the calendar moon which happens upon or next after the twenty-first of March: so that if the said fourteenth day be a Sunday, Easter Day is not that Sunday, but the next.

The description copied into prayer-books from the Act of Parliament for the change of style is incorrect* in two points: it substitutes the day of full moon for the fourteenth day, and the moon of the heavens for the calendar moon. But the details thus wrongly headed are, as intended, true copies of the Gregorian calendar.

Easter Day may be any day of the five weeks which commence with March 22; it falls on or between March 22 and April 25. There are then 35 distinct almanacs; all of which are given in the sequel. They are numbered from 1 to 35: and 1 is that on which Easter Day is at its earliest, on March 22; 2 is that on which it falls on the second possible day, March 23; and so on. To know Easter Day from the number of the almanac, add 21 or subtract 10, and call the result March or April. Thus almanac 7 has Easter

* When it happens that Easter Day falls on the day of real full moon, the apparent contradiction always makes a stir. On the last occasion, in 1845, I wrote an account of the Gregorian calendar, which the reader who wishes to know more of the subject may consult (Companion to the Almanac for 1845). So far as I know, no one having a reasonable acquaintance with the subject has written against the conclusions of that paper. There was indeed an article of length and pretension in a journal I will not name, which I was told charged me with various and grave errors. This article I happened to meet with a few months ago, which I was very glad to do, hoping for some instruction from it. But I had not read far before I came to the information that certain additions to the rule for finding Easter which distant periods require, and which are of course adopted by Delambre in his rule, were not in Delambre's rule, but were added by the late Sir Harris Nicolas! I read no further, being satisfied that the article was written upon second-hand information.

Day on March 28; almanac 23 on April 13. We may say, if we like, that almanac 23 has Easter Day on March 44, which is April 13. It is sometimes convenient to consider one month as a continuation of the preceding. In this case, remember that the day 0 of any month is the last day of the preceding.

To find the Almanac for any common year, A.D.

According as old or new style is wanted, find the year in the old style index (Table I.), or the new style index (Table II.). Opposite to the year are seen the epact, dominical letter, and number of the almanac. Thus A.D. 1349 (old) gives 29D22; old epact 29, dominical letter D, almanac the 22nd. And A.D. 1592 has 15BA5 in Table I., 16ED8 in Table II.: its almanacs are the 5th in old style, the 8th in the new.

To find the Almanac for any leap year, A.D.

Proceed as before, using the almanac found from March to December, and the next one for January and February.

But what is to be done with almanac 35, the last of all? We must here do what we may do in any other case, if we please. Use the almanac found throughout, but in January and February let every day of the month be advanced* one figure in date, and let a first of January be brought in. But remember that the feasts and saints' days which are fixed to days of the month move with the day of the month. For example, required the almanac for 1852 new style. The table gives 9DC21. Either use the last ten months of the 21st almanac, and the first two months of the 22nd, or else all of the 21st, making January 1 into January 2, &c., through January and February only. Thus, from the 21st almanac, we see by the alterations required that the Epiphany falls on a Tuesday, new-year's day on Thursday, Quinquagesima on February 22; all which is seen directly in almanac 22.

Chronological and astronomical formulæ are always contrived on the supposition that the additional day of leap year is made to fall between the two years, so as to affect all the leap year, as it ought to have been made to fall. The correction of this supposition is then made for January and February, on which months only is any effect produced.

On the Styles.—For general history, use the old style for any year before 1582, and in 1582 up to October 4 inclusive; but from October 15, inclusive, of that year, and for all following years, use the new style. And remember that October 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, of that year never existed in the new Calendar. But the week-days ran on: thus October 4 was Thursday, October 15 was the following Friday.

In English history use the old style for any year before 1752, and in 1752 up to September 2 inclusive; but from September 14, inclusive, of that year, and for all following years, use the new style. And remember that September 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, of that year never existed in the English Calendar. September 2 was Wednesday and September 14 was the following Thursday.

For Russia, or any country whose church is Greek, use the old style up to this day.

* Remember also that the Cambridge term divides 12 hours later.

Remember also that the English year most commonly begins on March 25 before the change of style: so that when we see February 14, 1687–88, we are to understand February 14 of the 1688 which begins in January, of the 1687 which began in the preceding March. This ambiguity extends to all days of January and February, and to the first 24 days of March.

To find the Old Style Almanac as it would have been in any year B.C.

Subtract 532 from the astronomer's date (or one less than the given date) until less than 532 is left, subtract that from 532, and find the old style almanac for the resulting date. Thus for B.C. 1096 and B.C. 148 we have:—

$\begin{array}{r} 1095 \\ 532 \\ \hline 563 \\ 532 \\ \hline 31 \end{array}$	$\begin{array}{r} 532 \\ 31 \\ \hline 501 \end{array}$	$\begin{array}{r} 532 \\ 147 \\ \hline 385 \end{array}$
A.D. gives 17G ₃₂		A.D. gives 25E ₂₃

And 32 and 23 are the numbers of the almanacs required.

For any year A.D. which is beyond the table, subtract 532 till you come into the table. Thus for A.D. 3085; three subtractions of 532 give 1489, and the almanac for 1489 is that required.

To ascertain that the Index Table is correct as to any year.

Go with the epact from the Index Table into Table III., which has new and old epacts in the upper and under rows. In the column of the epact find out the dominical letter; under it is the number of the almanac. Or, find the epact, old or new, in the fourth or fifth row of Table IV.; pass on to the following dominical letter, and under it, in the last row, is seen the number of the almanac. Thus 1221, old style, gives 25C₂₁, and from both tables it is seen that 25C should give 21. Also, 1851, new style, gives 28E₃₀, and it is also seen that 28E should give 30.

If it should happen in any instance that these tables do not confirm the index, then the index is wrong either in epact, dominical letter, or almanac number. If the dominical letter be wrong, it may be set right by looking at the obvious manner in which the dominical letters run; backwards, with two at every leap year. The epacts are as much under a rule. In the old style, one cycle of 19 numbers prevails throughout. That cycle is 11, 22, 3, 14, 25, 6, 17, 28, 9, 20, 1, 12, 23, 4, 15, 26, 7, 18, 29 || 11, 22, &c.

Each is formed from the preceding by adding 11, and striking off 30, when we get above 30: 29 being considered as 30.

In the new style the same sort of rule is followed, with certain shifts, thus:—From 1582 to 1699, 19 is used as 20, and the cycle of epacts is

26, 7, 18, 29, 10, 21, 2, 13, 24, 5, 16, 27, 8, 19, 1, 12, 23, 4, 15 || 26, 7, &c.

For the passage from 1699 to 1700, only 10 is added, and from thence to 1899 18 is used as 19, and the cycle of epacts is

9, 20, 1, 12, 23, 4, 15, 26, 7, 18, 30, 11, 22, 3, 14, 25, 6, 17, 28 || 9, 20, &c.

At 1899, the epact is 18, and for this once is used as 18, so that 1900 has 29. From thence to 2000 (and indeed to 2199) 17 is used as 18, 25 is changed* into 26 after all is done, [meaning that the next figure is not affected by the change,] and the cycle of epacts is 29, 10, 21, 2, 13, 24, 5, 16, 27, 8, 19, 30, 11, 22, 3, 14, 26, 6, 17 || 29, 10, &c.

The reader has now the means of verifying all the epacts.

The numbers of the almanacs run thus. The passage into a common year, is always made by subtracting one more than seven or a number of sevens, or adding one less. But the passage from an ordinary year into leap year is always made by subtracting two more than seven or a number of sevens, or adding two less. And all the almanacs which have the same dominical letter differ by sevens in their numbers: thus A belongs to almanacs 5, 12, 19, &c., B to 6, 13, &c. &c.

At the head of each almanac is printed its dominical letter, with every epact under which it can come.

To ascertain on what year nearest to a given year any given month-day falls on a given week-day.

Suppose, for example, that there is an event said to have happened in 1545. on June 12, and implied to have happened on Tuesday. Now in this year June 12 is Friday. We think there may have been a slight error in the date, and we want to know the nearest year in which it could have happened, if it really were on

* If any reader who consults Clavius should happen to follow me here, I will inform him, to prevent his imagining that this is not always true, that there are two misprints (xxv instead of 25) in page 390 of the folio edition. Francœur has not put these epacts quite right, though he has made no error in the almanac numbers.

Tuesday. Turn to an almanac in which June 12 falls on Tuesday, and note its dominical letter in the heading; or else turn to almanac 37, and by making June 12 Tuesday, find the dominical letter from an adjacent Sunday. Then look out the given year in the index, and note the nearest year at which the obtained dominical letter appears. Thus, in almanac 37, June 12 has the letter B, whence G must be the Sunday letter: at the old style index for 1545, it appears that 1543 is the nearest year preceding, and 1548 the nearest year following, using G for this last year because the date is after February.

Suppose that all we know of a person's age, beyond what his appearance tells us, is that he was born on Tuesday the 29th of February: what must his age be? We want a leap year in which Sunday is the 27th of February. The letter of this day is B, which is the first letter of the year. Look back from 1851, until we arrive at a leap year whose first dominical letter is B: we have 1848, 1820, 1780, 1752, 1724, between which it will no doubt be easy to decide.

To ascertain on what year nearest to a given year any moveable feast falls on a given day.

Turn over the almanacs until the almanac is found which has the feast on the required day; and note its number. Look for the year in the proper index, and run along the index both ways until the nearest year is found which has the obtained number for its almanac. But if it be Easter Day itself which is given, subtract 21 from the date in March, or add 10 to the date in April, and the almanac number is found at once

To Change Old Style into New.

At and from	Before and at	Add to the date
Oct. 5, 1582	Feb. 29, 1700	Ten days.
Mar. 1, 1700	Feb. 29, 1800	Eleven days.
Mar. 1, 1800	Feb. 29, 1900	Twelve days.
Mar. 1, 1900	Feb. 29, 2100	Thirteen days.

Thus March 28, 1587, O.S., is March 38 (or April 7), 1587, N.S. And December 26, 1692, O.S., is December 36, 1692, or January 5, 1693, N.S. February 29, 1700, O.S., is February 39, 1700, or March 11, 1700, N.S., for 1700 is not leap year in new style. But February 27, 1652, O.S., is February 37, or March 8, 1652, N.S., for 1652 is leap year in both styles. April 16, 1738, O.S., is April 27, 1738, N.S.; and August 30, 1850, O.S., is August 42, or September 11, 1850, N.S.

The old style leap years, which are not new style leap years, within the limits of this work, are 1700, 1800, 1900.

To Change New Style into Old.

With the exception presently noted, if the year be 15 . . or 16 . . subtract ten days from the date; if 17 . ., eleven days; if 18 . ., twelve days; if 19 . ., subtract thirteen days. Thus March 9, 1852, N.S., is (remembering leap year) February 38: in old style, February 26. But remember the following:—

- 1700. Up to March 11 inclusive, subtract 10, not 11.
- 1800. Up to March 12 inclusive, subtract 11, not 12.
- 1900. Up to March 13 inclusive, subtract 12, not 13.

In all these cases convert March into February, or the rule will not do. Thus March 11, 1800, N.S., is not March 0, 1800, O.S., or February 29, but March 11 is February 39, N.S., or February 28, O.S. Perhaps the best way when very near the points at which the leap year affects the old style, but not the new, would be to consult the following table.

1700.		1800.		1900.
O.S.	N.S.	O.S.	N.S.	O.S.	N.S.
Feb. 27 = Mar. 9		Feb. 27 = Mar. 10		Feb. 27 = Mar. 11
28 = 10		28 = 11		28 = 12
29 = 11		29 = 12		29 = 13
Mar. 1 = 12		Mar. 1 = 13		Mar. 1 = 14
2 = 13		2 = 14		2 = 15

To find the calendar new and full moons.

Take the epact of new style as it stands, of old style increased by 9, with 30 struck off if we get above 30, and turn to almanac 37. Every day which has the epact opposite to it in the first column of Roman numbers is a day of calendar new moon; in the second, of calendar full moon. Thus, when the epact of new style is 21, April 8 is a day of calendar new moon, April 22 of calendar full moon. But when the epact of old style is 26, take 35, say 5, and use 5 in the same way for the old style.

When the historian finds a statement about the day of new or full moon in a writer of the middle ages (that is, before printed almanacs became common), it must be for his decision whether his author speaks of the moon of the heavens, or of the erroneous moon of the calendar. This may often not be an easy matter to determine; but it is important that the caution should be given.

To find the days of real new and full moon, as nearly as the Gregorian calendar will give them.

For the new moons, augment the new style epact by 1 (except in the isolated case in which 26 is already written for 25, before described), and use the augmented epact as in the last rule. But for the full moons, use the unaugmented epact in the same way. Thus, for 1850, the new style epact is 17. Opposite to xviii we find the following days in the first column of Roman numbers in almanac 37, under which are the true days of new moon (J stands for January, &c.)

J 13, F 11, M 13, A 11, M 11, J 9, J 9, A 7, S 6, O 5, N 4, D 3
J 13, F 12, M 13, A 12, M 11, J 10, J 9, A 7, S 6, O 5, N 4, D 3

Opposite xvii in the second column we find the following days, under which are written the true days of full moon :—

J 28, F 26, M 28, A 26, M 26, J 24, J 24, A 22, S 21, O 20, N 19, D 18
J 28, F 26, M 27, A 26, M 26, J 24, J 24, A 22, S 21, O 21, N 19, D 19

There are instances in which the calendar errs two days, but they are rare. The above instances are rather more favourable in result than the average.

To find the real new and full moon, as nearly as the old calendar will give them, for the first sixteen centuries after the Christian era, or the first twelve before it.

Augment the old style epact by 9, striking off 30 if the result exceed 30. Alter this result as follows, adding 30 if a subtraction be indicated which cannot be done without it, and changing 30, if it finally result, into 29. Use the result as before for the new moon, and one less for the full moon.

B.C.	10th, 11th, 12th centuries,	subtract 5
—	7th, 8th, 9th centuries,	subtract 4

Required the new moon of September 610 B.C.

609	532	18
532	77	9
77	455 gives epact 18	27 subtract 4, 23

Almanac 37, xxiii is (in the first column) opposite September 30. The real day was September 29.

According to this rule, in the 18th century we should add 4. If we take the set of epacts beginning at 1750, namely 22, 3, &c., and add 9 to each, subtracting 30 when required; if we then add 4 to each and subtract 12 for the change of style—all which amounts to adding one—we really get the new style epacts with one added, in almost every case. The preceding rule makes the old calendar nearly as good as the new, and it would not be difficult to make it quite as good. But looking at the rule to which we are coming, it would be hardly worth while.

To find the time of real new or full moon for any month of any year, from B.C. 2000 to A.D. 2000, within two hours of the truth.

[It may be useful to give some idea of the meaning of the tables, though the rules will obtain the result without it. The process is that which the astronomical computer follows, with this difference, that his machinery of tables is more extensive, and adapted to give results within a second of the truth. The mean moon of the astronomer is neither the real nor the calendar moon, but a fictitious body, which moves at the mean or average rate of the moon, so that the real moon is, in the long run, as much and as often before as behind the mean moon. The same description may be given of the mean sun. But as this would lead to complications of addition and subtraction, the mean moon of tables for computation is always put so far back that all the corrections by which the mean moon is converted into the true may be additive. In the present tables the mean new and full moons are put back fourteen hours. In this sense, Table V. A shows the mean new moon in January of each year of the 18th century; Table V. B the mean full moon; Table V. C shows how much to put on for each additional lunation; Table V. D how much to subtract to pass from the day of the year to the day of the month; Table V. E shows the subtraction to be made on account of the slow acceleration of the moon's motion. Table V. F shows how to change the January mean new or full moon for the lapse of centuries. The columns S and M (relating to sun and moon) are preparations for passing from the mean new or full moon to the true; each unit in these columns meaning ten degrees of the planet's anomaly, for which see works on astronomy. Finally, Table V. G is used in making the passage from the mean moon to the true, and in it the fourteen hours above mentioned are included.]

The following points are to be particularly remembered:—

1. The astronomer's date B.C. is always one less than the civil date: thus, B.C. 1 (civil) is B.C. 0 (astronomical); B.C. 2 (civil) is B.C. 1 (astronomical). And the astronomer's date is to be used. The leap years are those of which the astronomical date is divisible by 4.
2. Old style is to be used in the calculation, converted into new style as wanted.
3. The astronomer's day commences at noon, and is reckoned through twenty-four hours; thus, January 16^d 6^h (astronomical) means 6 o'clock in the evening of the 16th; but January 16^d 14^h means two in the morning of the (civil) 17th. And the astronomer's day is to be used.
4. When a result is in the January or February of old style leap year, a day must be added to the date of the final result.
5. When anything is to be taken in days and hours out of A, B, C, E, or F (Tables V.), the S and the M are to be taken out with them; and whatsoever is directed to be done with the first, understand that the same is to be done with the second and third.
6. When subtraction from days and hours is directed to be done, and there is not enough to subtract from, add 29^d 13^h to the days and hours, and 3 to each of the two, S and M.
7. But when there is not enough to subtract from in S or M, add 36 to the one which is too small; and 36, otherwise arising, may always be thrown away, when not wanted for this purpose.

8. Take the date of the given year (astronomical, if B.C.) and find a year in the 18th century which differs from the given year by a complete number of centuries: note the number of centuries.

9. Take out the days and hours for the year of the 18th century, from A or B according as new or full moon is wanted: add or subtract the days and hours attached to the number of centuries in F. This result is for January.

10. Count the number of lunations elapsed from January to the given month, and add for that number from C: generally, each passage from one calendar month into another must reckon as one lunation; but where there is any doubt, almanac 37 and the epact will settle it.

11. Subtract the result belonging to the nearest date in E, when there is anything to subtract.

12. Having attended to direction 5, now add to the result what is opposite its S and M in Table G (remembering that 0 in the calculation gives something in Table G): deduct the greatest you can of the numbers of days in Table D, and note the month opposite. The remainder shows the days and hours of that month required: in which change the style when requisite.

13. The result is for Greenwich time: to find the time in any other longitude, add the longitude in time, if east; subtract it, if west.

Example.—Required the full moon of August B.C. 55 (54 of astronomers). The epact is that of 532—54, or 478; namely, 3: $3 + 9 = 12$. $12 - 2 = 10$ (see last rule), and (Alm. 37), the time was about August 30, eight lunations from that of January, as appears by going from ix to ix in the full-moon column of Alm. 37. And B.C. 55 (astronomically 54) is 18 centuries back from 1746.

We then try the former one, which in old style is about the middle of May, with four lunations elapsed from the new moon of January.

The Almanacs give 9^h 2^m A.M.

Here we are nearly two hours wrong; but it must be observed that this method of going back or forwards a number of lunations from a result already calculated is often not so accurate as proceeding direct from the preceding January, though it will be found that there is no difference in the present instance. It will be a useful verification, for those who do not feel confidence in their own results, to run on, in the above mode, to the moon of the next January, and then to calculate that moon separately. The difference in this case may amount to anything under four hours, since each result may have its own error of anything under two hours, and the two errors may be of opposite kinds.

These examples will be enough to illustrate the method, and examples with answers may be chosen out of any almanac.

I shall now mention the method of filling up the almanacs.

Roman Calendar.—The first day of each month being its kalends (k), the last part of the month is reckoned backwards from the kalends of the following. The rest of the month consists in the ides and the days before it, and the nones and the days before it. The various parts of the months are entered under such abbreviations as 14*k* for the fourteenth day before the kalends, 2*i* for the day (the second day as the Roman reckoning made it) before the ides. The reader must seek further information (if he need it) in works professedly explanatory of the calendar, or in a classical dictionary. It is to be remembered that in the leap year of this calendar it is the sixth before the kalends of March (Feb. 24), which is repeated twice.

Sundays.—In the English nomenclature Easter Sunday has always the six Sundays in Lent immediately preceding, and the five Sundays after Easter immediately following. Of these the nearest to Easter before and after are Palm Sunday and Low Sunday; the farthest before and after are Quadragesima (1st in Lent), and Rogation Sunday (5th after Easter). Preceding all these are, in reverse order, Quinquagesima, Sexagesima, Septuagesima: and following them in direct order, are the Sunday after Ascension (Holy Thursday, Thursday five weeks after Easter), Whit Sunday and Trinity Sunday. So that Easter Sunday, as it takes its course through the almanacs, draws after it, as it were, nine Sundays, and pushes eight before it, all of fixed denominations. Looking farther back, every Sunday preceding Septuagesima, but not preceding the fixed day of Epiphany (Jan. 6) is named as of Epiphany or of after Epiphany: the least number of Sundays after Epiphany is one, the greatest number six. Looking farther forwards, all the Sundays following Trinity are named as after Trinity, in succession, until we arrive at the nearest Sunday (be it before or after) to St. Andrew's Day (Nov. 30), which is the first Sunday in Advent. The least number of Sundays after Trinity is 22; the greatest, 27. From thence, up to Christmas Day, exclusive, the Sundays are named as in Advent, and from Christmas Day to Epiphany, exclusive, they are named as Christmas Day, or as the first or second Sunday after Christmas. The usage of the Roman Church is the same, and the nomenclature nearly so. The first Sunday after a great feast, as Epiphany or Christmas Day, is named the Sunday within the octave,* the Sunday before Palm Sunday (fifth of Lent) is Passion Sunday, the fifth after Easter is not called Rogation Sunday, but the Rogation days follow; and the Sundays after Trinity Sunday are not reckoned from Trinity Sunday, but from Whit Sunday, or Pentecost. Thus the 10th Sunday after Trinity (English) is the 11th after Pentecost (Roman). On the nomenclature of the Sundays of the Greek Church I can get no information.

* The octave of any day is that day week, the eighth day from it, the day itself reckoning as one.

*[Law Terms.—By 11 Geo. IV. and 1 Gul. IV. cap. 70, amended by 1 Gul. IV. cap. 3, the terms are settled as follows. There is nothing to prevent any term beginning on a Sunday (though some of the almanacs do not admit this), but a term must not end on a Sunday; when what would otherwise be the last day is a Sunday, the last day is the following Monday. With this reservation, Hilary term begins January 11 and ends January 31: Michaelmas term begins November 2 and ends November 25. The intervening terms are Easter and Trinity. Easter term begins April 15 and ends May 8; but if this term shall contain one or more of the following days, Good Friday, its Saturday, Easter Monday, Easter Tuesday, then for each such day one day of business (skipping Sunday) shall be added on to and shall form part of the term, beginning to count those days of business from May 8, exclusive. Trinity term begins May 22, ends June 12; but when Easter term is prolonged, as above, then the beginning and ending of Trinity term are deferred for an equal number of days of business.]

tober 10, ends December 16. Lent, or January, Term begins January 13, ends the Friday before Palm Sunday. Easter, or Midsummer, Term begins the Wednesday week after Easter Day, and ends on the Friday after Commencement Day, which is the first Tuesday in July. There is no modification in the case of festivals. Each term divides into two equal parts, as marked in the almanacs, dividing at midnight or at noon according as the term contains an even or an odd number of days.]

*[Oxford Terms.—When what would otherwise be the first or last day of term is a festival, the day after is to be the beginning or ending of the term: except as to the ending of Easter Term, which is to be the day before. A festival is a Sunday or other day for which there is a special church service; and the festivals (besides Sundays) which interfere with the terms are the Annunciation (March 25), St. Mark (April 25), Sts. Philip and James (May 1), the accession of Charles II. (May 29), St. Barnabas (June 11), and no others. With the exceptions thus obtained, Michaelmas Term begins October 10, ends December 17; Hilary Term begins January 14, ends the day before Palm Sunday, or the day after, if the day before be a festival; Easter Term begins the Wednesday week after Easter Day, and ends on the day before Whit Sunday; Trinity Term begins the Wednesday after Whit Sunday, and ends the Saturday after the Act, which is the first Tuesday in July.]

entered in the series of almanacs are those in the calendar of the English Church. But the supplementary almanac, 36, is filled with nothing but saints' days. The selection was made, in the first instance (with the view of procuring the saints most current in the almanacs of the middle ages), by taking all the names which I could find in the almanacs printed in the fifteenth century, or in the abbreviated verses which the boys of a yet earlier period were made to learn by heart. (See my article On the Earliest Printed Almanacs in the Companion to the Almanac for 1846.) To these are added the names in the English calendar. The few blanks then left were filled up as I judged best from the Martyrology of the Roman Church. A name entered in Italics is one which I found in the old almanacs, but did not afterwards find in the Martyrology, or at least not for the same day. In leap year the Roman calendar is to be followed; the second Feb. 24 is the day of St. Matthias, and so on.

Abbreviations.—When, owing to a Sunday, &c., interfering with a day of fixed denomination, the latter is much abbreviated, the reader, if he find the abbreviation difficult, may turn to some neighbouring almanac, in which the name is more fully given. Such cases as t. e. for "term ends," &c., need no description; but Hilary (Jan. 13), Catharine (Nov. 25), and O Sapientia (Dec. 16), the printer is always obliged to abbreviate: they are therefore noted here.

Mahometan Calendar.—The year 1 of the Hegira began A.D. 622, July 16. This year is of 354 or 355 days, according to a law which it would be useless to describe here. As a general rule, when a Hegiral year begins in a Christian year, the next Hegiral year begins in the next Christian year. But sometimes a whole Hegiral year is contained within a Christian year (beginning in January and ending in December), so that two successive Hegiral years begin in one and the same Christian year. To state when this happens will enable the reader, so far as year-dates are concerned, to convert Mahometan dates into Christian, and the converse.

This table shows, for instance, that the Hegiral years 186 and 187 both begin in A.D. 802. To find the year A.D. in which a given year A. HEG. begins, count year for year from the last Hegiral year of the pair in the above table which precedes the given Hegiral year. Thus (New Style) A. HEG. 1169, seven years in date from 1162, begins seven years in date from 1748, or in 1755. To find the year A.H. in which a year A. D. begins, reverse the preceding process, and subtract one from the result. Thus, to know where A.D. 1693 begins, 11 years in date from 1682 in the table, add 11 to 1094 and subtract 1, which gives 1104. To find roughly the month in which a given year A. HEG. begins, subtract the latter date of the last two which begin in our year A.D., and choose the month written opposite the remaining number in the following list, always taking January and December for the commencements of the pairs in the list.

31, 32 January.	20, 21, 22 May.	9, 10, 11 September.
28, 29, 30 February.	17, 18, 19 June.	6, 7, 8 October.
25, 26, 27 March.	14, 15, 16 July.	3, 4, 5 November.
23, 24 April.	12, 13 August.	1, 2 December.

This will be right within a month, and is all that can be done without calculation or an extensive table. Thus the year 1172 of the Hégira (10 removed from 1162) begins in September, by this rule (the true beginning is September 4). The middle numbers are sure enough to give the real month; the extremes not so safe. Thus 16 may be June or July.

General Works.

NICOLAS, Sir N. H. The Chronology of History (a volume of Lardner's Cabinet Cyclopaedia). London, 1833.

Including tables of the Indictions A.D. 1000—1999; Roman and Church Calendar; alphabetical Calendar of Saints' Days; French Revolutionary Calendar; chronological and alphabetical lists of Popes, and also of Councils; information on Regnal Years of foreign Sovereigns and of Kings of England, with tables of the latter; table of Law Terms; table of Contemporary Sovereigns, A.D. 800—1833; &c.

BOND, J. J. Handy-book of Rules and Tables for verifying dates with the Christian Era. Bohn's Library.

The recent editions of this book are very useful, and cover a great deal of ground.

WILES, J. P. The World's Perpetual Calendar. 1906.

Adjustable to any year both of Old and New Styles: shewing Easter Sunday from A.D. 1 to 2199, and dates of all New Moons from A.D. 1900 to 2199.

For Oriental Eras.

IRWIN, A. M. B. (I.C.S.). The Burmese Calendar. London, 1901.

PLAYFAIR, G. M. H. (H.B.M. Consul at Ningpo). An Anglo-Chinese Calendar for the years 1892—1911. Kelly and Walsh, Shanghai, &c., 1896.

CUNNINGHAM, Sir ALEX. Book of Indian Eras, with tables for calculating Indian dates. Calcutta, 1883.

This work gives explanations of 26 various eras, besides tables of the Seleukidian, Hindu, Hijra, and Ilahi (Parsee) initial days of years, and of the Dakhini Cycle of Jupiter as used in South India; together with a general table of corresponding dates for B.C. 60 to A.D. 2000.

DUFF, C. MABEL. The Chronology of India from earliest times to the beginning of the sixteenth century. Westminster, 1899.

BURNABY, S. B. Elements of the Jewish and Muhammadan Calendars, with rules and tables, and explanatory notes on the Julian and Gregorian Calendars. London, 1901.

This, which is a very full and clear treatise on the subject, includes tables of corresponding Jewish and Christian dates for Tishri 1 and Nisan 15 during A.D. 610—3003; and Muhammadan and Christian for Muharram 1 during A.D. 622—3008 (= A.H. 1—2460).

LOEB, ISIDORE. Tables du Calendrier Juif depuis l'ère Chrétienne jusqu'au xxx^e siècle: avec la concordance des dates juives et des dates chrétiennes, et une méthode nouvelle pour calculer ces tables. Paris, 1886.

WÜSTENFELD, F. Vergleichungs-Tabellen der Muhammadanischen und Christlichen Zeitrechnung nach dem ersten Tage jedes muh. Monats berechnet. Leipzig, 1854.

This which is calculated for A.D. 622—2071 (= A.H. 1—1500) has also a Fortsetzung by G. Mahler which was published at Leipzig, 1887.

While this consists almost entirely of tables, it will be seen that they are very full indeed, and therefore supplement Burnaby above.

Old Style Index.

SHOWING, for each year of Old Style from A.D. 1 to A.D. 1900, the Epact, Dominical Letter, and Number of the Almanac. Thus, the years 5, 537, 1069, 1601, Old Style, have the same epact 25, the same dominical letter D, and the same almanac, being number 22 in the list. See the Introduction for the way in which this Index may be continued backwards or forwards.

TABLE III.

First Verification of Index.

Look for the Epact, old or new, in the top or bottom row, and for the Dominical Letter in the column of the Epact; the number of the Almanac is then seen. Thus, New Style, the epact being 11, and the dominical letter C, the number of the almanac is 14. Again, Old Style, the epact being 14, and the dominical letter D, the number of the almanac is 8.

TABLE IV.

Second Verification of Index.

THE first three rows are part of Almanac 37, the fourth and fifth contain the old and new Epacts, the sixth the numbers of the Almanacs. Find the Epact in its proper column, and the Dominical Letter which comes next after that column shows Easter Day in the first column, and the number of the Almanac in the last. Thus, Old Style, epact 26, dominical letter A, gives 26 also for the number of the Almanac. Again, New Style, epact 28, dominical letter E, gives 30 for the number of the Almanac.
